MR. BLAINE'S CONDITION.

He Continues to Grow Stronger Not the Slightest Danger of a Return Apprehended.

By American Press Association to the STAR. Washington, June 18 .- Mr. Blaine's physicians this morning announce that he is gaining strength much faster than they had any reason to expect. It now appears that the attack was much less important than appeared from the first symptoms. He is suffering much more now from the result of continuous overwork for a long time past than from the effects of the attack of Sunday.

He rested well last night, ate a hearty breakfast, and conversed with his friends in almost his usually vivacious manner. He had the papers read to him this morning, and also a number of dispatches from his triends in Cincinnati, The greatest trouble now is to keep him quiet and prevent him from concluding that he is strong enough to do much more than it is proper to allow him.

With the Maine Son Ahead -Organization Probabilities--Notes, News, and Comments, Etc.

The weather remains warm, the excitement continues to increase, the last of the delegations are coming in, but there is no cessation of work. The are on the home-stretch where whip and spur must be used, and that every lick now put in will tell on the final result.

The Ohio delegation held a meeting at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at their headquarters at the Grand Hotel. Besides the delegates a number of other leading Republicans were present. Speeches were made in favor of and a real enthusiasm developed for Hayes. Every delegate is for him, and will stick as long as there is the most remote possibility of his selection. Ex-Governor Noves was unanimously made Chairman of the delegation.

The serenade of the colored delegates Inclined Plane June 15, '76. at the Grand Hotel by the New York Reform Club took place at a little after 9 o'clock. The music was by the celebrated Ninth Regiment Band. The Club carried its beautiful banner bearing the name of "Roscoe Conkling." Speeches were made by Dr. Garrett, the venerable Fred. Douglass, and Hou. J. H. Harris of North Carolina. Col. Harian entertained a number of colored delegates at his residence last night. The National Executive Committee had an informal meeting yesterday afternoon and went in a body to inspect Exposition Hall and the arrangements there. They found everything in tip-top order and were very much pleased with the perfect arrangements in all particulars made by our local committee.

Gen. John M. Harlan declines the position of Permanent Chairman of the Convention. He has other work to do. The first regular meeting of the National Executive Committee was held at Il o'clock this morning, and is at this hour (13 o'clock) still in progress. Hon. Richard Smith, of the Gazette was serenaded last night. He made a short speech, and was followed by Hon. Joseph Medill, of the Chicago Tribune.

Blaine's friends emphatically depy

It is now understood that provined den. Harlen is positive in his declination, Gov. Ramsey, of Minnecota, will be made Permanent Chairman.

The Blaine men this morning are, for the first time, thoroughly organized and energetically at work. They are making immense gains, and his friends claim that they are in possession of information that guarantees them in saying that he will be nominated on the second ballot, or as soon as the complimentary votes are over. Mr. Eugene Hale has within the last twelve hours shown himself to be by all odds the best organizer and most thorough worker in the Convention.

The Blaine men have just issued a gain and carried to adjourn till and and carried to adjourn till and color the first time, A. Finklenburg, Vice President; D. S. Twitchell, Secretary; M. A. The Judge of the Court of Common Pleas at Barnwell, South Carolina, and to bring business to a sudden halt last week to save colored jurors from starvation. They said they had been without food for the whole day, and could get neither money nor credit. The kind-hearted Judge proceeded to give them the following "crumbs of comfort": "Under the circumstances, I will be compelled to discharge you, for I can not keep you here in a starving condition. compelled to discharge you, for I can not keep you here in a starving condition. But you see to what a condition you have brought the county. You are not without blame, for the men in office, responsible for the stoppage of the court, were put there by your votes. Here we are in the month of May; there is no money to pay your judge, to pay judge to support the prisoners in juil, or pay the other expenses of the county. You colored voters are responsible for this thing, for by your votes the bad men who have brought about this lamentable state of affairs were elected."

A Robin at a Death-bed. The Saratogian of Thursday morning says: "One of the strangest coincidences that ever came to our attention oc curred on White street at midnight of Sunday, at the time of the death of James Carragan. The upper sash of one of the windows had been lowered to give the patient more air. His daughter, Mrs. Scavey, sat by the sufferer, giving him ice, which he oraved. J. L. Lucas, a friend of the family, was also present. Just before midnight Mr. Carragan gave unmistakable signs of sinking, and when the town clock was striking the hour his spirit left the body. As he was dying a robin flew in, and resting on the lowered sash, gave forth in clearest notes its well known song, and the moment death curred on White street at midnight of well known soug, and the moment death claimed the suff rer the bird flew out into the darkness of the night whence is

The wife of Mr. Jo. McClusky, says the Cumberland (Ky.) Courier, was awakened the other night by something passing over her. Passing her hand around and feeling nothing, she was about to go to sleep, when a ringing sound arrested her attention. Size sprang up, struck a light, and, coiled up by her pillow, she beneld a large rathe-anake. Almost paralyzed at the sight, she for a moment knew not what to de: she for a moment knew not what to de; but the mother's tove overcame her less, and she speedily dispatched it. At the time her babe and two little children were in bed with her, and the wooder is that some of them were not bitten by the intruder, as her movements had angered it, and, when she discovered it, it was balauced for a stroke.
